

I love the No-call law Indiana set forth. I should be entitled to privacy in my home. If you overturn it, I will have my phone turned-off. My parents own a camper in KY, and have a phone line, because of their failing health. I hate going down there and have the phone ring several times a day, with the annoying credit card, phone companies and every other company that can't make a living with out annoying and prying on the old or weak individual. Leave it alone!!!! Finally it is quiet and hassel free in Indiana.
